

Deputation Date Announcement!

March 18th, 2015

This March, we will officially begin the majority of our meetings. We are kicking off deputation with a missions conference in Stonewood, West Virginia. Our family is looking forward to presenting our ministry, reuniting with friends, and meeting new prayer partners. Because Jonathan works at a bank he is required to take five consecutive days off sometime during the year. During that paid time off, we will be traveling and presenting. God has blessed us with some meetings before that date too. We are traveling just 45 minutes away to a new church plant in order to secure some more prayer support. The kind people there will have us present during their midweek service on Thursday, February 19th. Please pray that we can be a blessing to them.

New Partnership

Now Assisted by a Clearinghouse

On Wednesday morning, February 11th, we interviewed with All Points Baptist Mission and were accepted as missionaries that will be assisted by their ministry. We are excited about how such a ministry will help our local church send us overseas. With the help of a clearing house like All Points Baptist Mission (APBM) we can fulfill our tax filing obligations while we are overseas, have financial accountability, and have full-time support in regards to our financial collection and disbursement. What we like about them is their love for missions, that they are a ministry of a local church, their missionary training school, and their Godly staff. What a blessing it is to have people willing to fill in the gaps of very much needed areas of service!

For inquiries about our clearinghouse, just visit their website at www.allpointsbaptist.com.

There, you can find out more information about them and their ministry to both local churches and missionaries.

Snow! There's just something about being a missionary to Russia that requires one to like this fluffy stuff. Whittier's poem, "Snow-Bound: A Winter Idyl," is inspirational for our kind of weather.

Nothing helps you self-check priorities like watching the destructive power of a fire. One night, these flames destroyed the majority of a town near our home. Is what you are living for going to matter in eternity? There are souls headed for a real, inescapable Hell.

"Yea, so have I strived to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build upon another man's foundation: But as it is written, To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand." - Romans 15:20-21
